

Functional English SS1012

Presentation Prompt (CS Stream)

Presentation # 2

INSTRUCTIONS

Date of presentation: 27th November, 2023 (CS-A & B)

28th November, 2023 (CS-E & F)

Short PERSUASIVE speech/presentation (spoken assignment)

Choose one of the most consumed products in the world and try to convince the audience NOT to use that anymore. You may also convince them to use an alternative. Your presentation should include the following:

- Explain the significance and popularity of the product.
- Discuss the environmental, health, and social issues associated with its production, consumption, and disposal.
- Use data and statistics to highlight the negative consequences.
- Introduce the alternative product or behavior that can replace the one you're discouraging.
- Explain the benefits and advantages of the alternative, such as sustainability, health, or economic benefits.
- Offer practical tips on how to adopt this alternative in everyday life.

PRESENTATION GUIDELINES

- You may bring the product as a prop for the presentation but it is not mandatory.
- Refrain from making political or religious arguments in favor of or against the product.
- You will have 1 minute 30 seconds to convince the audience on your viewpoint. Ensure your presentation fits within the allocated time. If your presentation exceeds the time limit, marks will be deducted.
- You may use visuals like charts, images, and videos to reinforce your points.
- Cite sources and references for any statistics or data you present.

- Be empathetic to the concerns and viewpoints of the audience.
- Dress code is business casual.
- The presentation is equal to 4 absolutes.
- Be audible and have vocal variety.
- Make sure your idea is supported with relevant and credible evidence.
- Idea should be developed logically. The audience will just listen to your ideas once, so they should be able to follow the points made.
- Maintain eye contact with your audience.
- Paper reading is not allowed. Prepare and practice.
- You will be marked for posture and use of gestures. Gestures should support and augment the idea being discussed.
- Be confident and animated. Just think of this as an opportunity to share ideas enlightening ideas with your colleagues.

PRESENTATION DAY ETIQUETTE

- Be in the class on time.
- Don't move in and out of the class, this distracts and disturbs the audience.
- Respect each other's ideas even if you do not agree with them.
- You will be called according to your placement on the Attendance Sheet.
- I will call your name only ONCE, if you do not come forward to present, you will NOT be given a chance to present.

RUBRIC

- Read the rubric carefully. Any queries about that would be discussed in the upcoming class.
- The rubric is detailed and assesses different components of the speech. See how you will be marked.

VIDEO RECORDING

- Hand your smartphone to your friend, so they can record your presentation.
- In the case you have any questions/objections about the marks, the recording can be used to discuss the key points.
- Do not make use of any filters (Snapchat or Instagram) while recording. Any such video will not be considered if shown for a review.

- Video recording is mandatory for a feedback activity.