

Final Project (TED talk) Brief

Welcome, aspiring TED speakers! In this semester project, you have the opportunity to unleash your creativity and share your unique perspectives. Here's a brief guide to help you craft and deliver a compelling TED Talk.

Tips and Information:

1. Choose a topic you are passionate about, something that sparks curiosity and resonates with you personally. Your enthusiasm will captivate your audience. Please make sure your topic is appropriate and free of any bias; do not include religious or political material. Use of any such topic will result in your project presentation being unmarked.
2. Define a clear purpose for your talk. What is the main idea you want to convey? Outline 2-3 supporting points that strengthen your message.
3. Create a maximum of 5 slides to complement your talk. Keep them visually engaging with impactful images. Use minimal text and let your spoken words be the focal point.
4. Start strong! Capture your audience's attention with a compelling story, a surprising fact, or a thought-provoking question.
5. Develop each supporting point with examples, anecdotes, or evidence. Ensure a logical flow between your ideas to maintain audience engagement.
6. End on a high note. Summarize your key points and leave the audience with something to ponder. A call to action, a challenge, or a powerful quote can make a lasting impression.
7. Practice your talk to refine your delivery. Pay attention to body language, maintain eye contact, and vary your tone for an engaging presentation. A detailed rubric is attached for your perusal.
8. The Ted talk should not exceed a 3-minute limit. Time yourself during practice runs to ensure you stay within the allocated time. Conciseness enhances impact. You will be asked to come back after 3 minutes.

9. To make your Ted Talk stand out, do some additional research. Incorporate personal experiences, relevant statistics, or real-world examples to elevate your content.
