

Assignment 4

Job Package: Presentation

This presentation is a sequel to assignment 3. Here your task is to present how you are the most suitable candidate for the post you have worked on for your assignment 3. In fact, you have to market your services and skills in this presentation.

Other Instructions:

Your presentations will be held roll-number-wise in week 10 (March 24- March 28).

DELIVERING THE PRESENTATION

- You will be delivering presentations in the style of a personal elevator pitch.
- Have a creative and memorable introduction that hooks your audience and makes them curious about what is ahead.
- Consider that you are marketing yourself to potential employers in a job fair, interview or a networking event.
- The first questions you need to consider are: who you are and what value will you bring to the organization?
- You need to go beyond your name and which university you are studying at. What is your unique selling factor that differentiates you from the rest?
- Talk about your skills and provide quantifiable examples that show how you have employed those skills.
- Show that you understand the industry and the company that you are applying for. For that use key words from the industry.
- Be creative. Show both your personality, creativity, and competencies.
- Be audible and have vocal variety.
- Maintain eye contact with your audience.
- You will be marked for posture and use of gestures. Gestures should support and augment the idea being discussed.
- Be confident and animated.
- Make sure you bring your own printed rubric to the class on your presentation day.

TIME LIMIT

- You have 70-90 seconds to present your best.
- Keep track of your time. Marks will be deducted for exceeding the time limit or finishing too early.
- This does not mean that a rushed or fast paced presentation is presented that the audience is not able to understand.
- Learn and practice to control the information you will be presenting.
